How is your financial adviser paid?

The fees and commissions payable to Secure Wealth Financial Services Pty Ltd are explained in Part one of the FSG and also below. Consultum may retain up to 5 per cent of these fees and commissions and then pay the balance to Secure Wealth Financial Services Pty Ltd, which engages your adviser to provide financial services. Of the amount received by Secure Wealth Financial Services Pty Ltd from Consultum, your adviser is paid a salary, part of which may cover your adviser's operational expenses.

Service and advice fees paid by you

Your initial appointment is complimentary. At this meeting, David Camilleri will explain how Secure Wealth Financial Services Pty Ltd operates, what you can expect and the payment options. All fees and commissions payable by you will be explained to you at the time advice is given and will also be detailed in a Statement of Advice, Record of Advice and Product Disclosure Statement(s).

You will have the ability to select your preferred payment option from the options below prior to the provision of advice. All amounts noted below are inclusive of GST:

Fee for service – once-off

The product provider deducts a once-off fee for the services provided to you in relation to your account. You may be charged a flat dollar fee of up to $2,200 however depending on the complexity of the advice sought, this fee may be higher. Alternatively, you may elect to pay the once off fee for service by direct payment.

Statement of Advice (SoA)

A Statement of Advice fee is charged to cover the cost of researching, developing and preparing your advice document. This fee may be based on an hourly rate of $220 and ranges from $990 to $3,300, however depending on the complexity of the advice sought, this fee may be higher.

Adviser service fee

The Adviser service fee represents the cost of providing our annual professional services to you. A summary of the services which you receive for this fee is contained in the Client Service Agreement. This fee may be up to 1.1 per cent per annum of assets under advice or charged as a flat dollar fee of up to $5,280 per annum, or a combination of both options can be negotiated depending on the complexity of the advice and the agreed level of service being provided. You only pay an Adviser service fee if you agree to a Client Service Agreement and then, only until it expires.

Commission for life risk insurance products – Policies issued from 1 January 2020

Initial commission payable under an upfront structure is capped at 66 per cent from 1 January 2020. Ongoing commission under an upfront structure is 22 per cent of the annual premium paid. Both initial and ongoing commission under a level structure will continue to be capped at 37 per cent.

Other benefits?

Apart from the "Other benefits" section disclosed in part one, there are no other benefits received or relationships that may influence the recommendation.

Overseas disclosures

In order to facilitate the provision of financial services, para-planning and other administrative services for you, your financial adviser utilises a service provider located in Philippines and Sri Lanka. Accordingly, your personal information will likely be accessed from this overseas location. Any overseas disclosure of your personal information to enable these services to be provided does not affect our commitment to safeguarding your privacy, and we will take reasonable steps to ensure that any overseas recipient complies with Australian privacy law.
